Looking for our next amazing team member! We are searching for an Architectural designer with great energy for Preen, Inc. We are a small heavy hitting design firm responsible for some extra good restaurants and hotels in LA and beyond. We are beginning our next chapter which looks like more projects in nature, enlightenment and wellness.

We are seeking someone educated and trained as an architect with at least 6-10 years of work experience to act as the critical pivot point between principal and production. We are committed to clarity, communication, and integrity as we continue to grow and explore new projects and more magic. We seek someone very special to create this game with us.

If you are right for this position, you are a generator. You generate design, team and efficiency. You are self-motivated and extremely organized. Ideally you have great taste. Your responsibilities will include overseeing production, while understanding that we often need all hands on deck. You will create team onboarding, training, and management. You will be the lead on quality control and timekeeping for multiple projects. Must know or learn Revit for this. We are looking for a long term player whose dream matches up with ours.

Respectfully, we are only accepting applications from those not needing sponsorship at this time. If you are interested, please email your resume and portfolio to alexis@preeninc.com.
