SLC - Project Architect

· Salt Lake City, Utah

https://www.dwelldesignstudio.com/careers-culture

Salary: Based on Experience

Dwell Design Studio is seeking a radically polished Project Architect who loves getting into details to plan and develop projects of medium to large scope and work under minimal supervision. They will be working closely with the Project Manager and Construction Administrator on a dynamic project team interpreting, organizing, executing, and coordinating assignments. This Dwellian is responsible for the following tasks:

- Attending client meetings and leading day to day consultant coordination.
- Developing and directing Project Detailing
- Specification Coordination
- In collaboration with the Construction Administration team, identifying potential issues and assisting with resolution, as well as assisting in developing solutions to significant or recurring technical challenges
- Driving Technical Quality in our documents, during all phases of a project
- Organizing Project tasks and Developing Tee-up Sets

Knowledge and Skills Requirements:
- Ridiculous technical skills – this Dwellian knows how to put a building together
- 6+ years of design experience, license preferred but not required
- Professional degree from an accredited college or university
- Have a positive attitude with a sense of humor
- Excellent mentorship attributes to guide supporting staff
- Excellent organizational skills and follow-through ability
- Excellent analytical and problem-solving skills
- Thorough understanding and preparation of design projects through all phases of development
- Experience in multifamily, mixed-use or student housing construction
- Proficient in Revit, Bluebeam, and similar design applications

Salt Lake City office phone number: (385) 273-3888

Appy for Job: https://dwelldesignstudio.bamboohr.com/jobs/view.php?id=22