

Entry Level Architect

The Cearnal Collective, a well-established Santa Barbara design firm with an incredible variety of projects, is looking for an entry level Architect to join our tight-knit group of dynamic, passionate and creative people.

Come join a workplace where your voice is heard, ideas are encouraged and your work effort is rewarded. This is an incredible opportunity for someone who is looking for a unique and collaborative environment with potential for professional and personal development. Our downtown location offers a family oriented, dog-friendly and nurturing work environment with great amenities and resources. We are currently following the work from home order.

The position requires confidence in communication, Revit knowledge, and detailing. Experience preferred. Passion & desire for collaboration is essential and is evident in our open office environment.

The Cearnal Collective offers generous salaries and excellent benefits, including a 401k, health insurance, HSA, full vacation and holiday pay, including Fiesta!

Compensation is commensurate to experience.
