

The Architects Collective is a group of designers working to enrich lives through the practice of architecture.

Based in Los Angeles, we work with project owners to design multi-unit housing projects. We apply diverse areas of expertise and rigorous approaches to project analysis, design, and implementation. Through our collaborative approach, both the design process and solutions are nuanced and multi-layered, striking a balance between high efficiency and exceptional design.

TAC is at the vanguard of modular housing construction in Los Angeles. We adeptly employ the benefits of this construction method in project design, exploiting its characteristics, parameters, and criteria to design inventive solutions.
