

EYRC INTERNSHIP NOW HIRING

Ehrlich Yanai Rhee Chaney Architects is currently looking for enthusiastic, highly-motivated, talented designers to join our Los Angeles and San Francisco studios.

Honored with the AIA National Firm Award for 2015, Ehrlich Yanai Rhee Chaney Architects (EYRC) is a versatile practice that has earned an international reputation for design excellence and an exemplary professional culture. The firm offers a friendly and supportive environment in which interns can gain real-world experience and develop their skills under the direct tutelage of licensed architects. The office is focused on the expression of visions as constructed realities.

We are seeking entry-level individuals who are interested in furthering their education by working as interns in this context. Positions are available for minimum three-month periods and require a 40-hour/week commitment. Exposure to the working world of professional practice is gained through opportunities which might include: utilizing Revit on a project, constructing study and presentation models; assistance with the design development of a project; preparing presentation drawings for publication and/or awards programs; supporting day-to-day architectural office tasks (research, errands, etc.); and witnessing the ongoing progress of a project through visits to construction sites, attendance at meetings with consultants, visits to local building departments, and similar experiences.

Please email resumes, letters of interest, and samples of work to Hiring Manager with the subject heading "Employment Inquiry - Internship" to: internships@eyrc.com.
