

Job Title:
Intermediate / Senior Designer

Firm Name:
Levin-Morris Architects

Location:
West Hollywood, CA

Firm Profile:
Levin-Morris is a small architectural design firm located in West Hollywood, with a current focus on multi-family and mixed-use projects, but with a broad portfolio of building types.

We are seeking an Intermediate / Senior Designer, with good organizational skills and an interest in both design and project management. Revit proficiency is absolutely essential; applicants should have done several projects in Revit and understand the quirks of the program. Ability to follow good practice and conform to the firm's standards is a must. Fluent English speaking and writing ability is required.

Our small firm size provides a collaborative studio environment, with the opportunity to work on all phases of a project and great potential for growth within the firm. The firm has been set up for remote working for several years, and a combination of on-site and remote is possible for this position.

Salary / Compensation:
Commensurate with experience and demonstrated skill level. 401(k) and profit-sharing options available.

Job Description:

- Develop design and presentation drawings under the direction of the principals.
- Develop construction documents and coordinate engineering construction documents under the direction of the principals.

Job Requirements:

- Professional degree (B.Arch or M.Arch) from a US College or University.
- Proficiency in Revit.
- Ability to manage time and consistently meet deadlines without constant supervision.
- Minimum 4 years of experience producing architectural design and construction documents; 5 - 7 years experience preferred.
- Excellent organizational, interpersonal and speaking skills.
- Authorization to work in the US without need for employer sponsorship.
